

JUNIUS

9100-PN

Junius's arm is a single swoop, beginning and ending with light. As a chandelier, Junius has a center of faceted crystal with a faceted finial. As a sconce, its shape is almost swan-like. Additionally, the sconce swivels to the right and left. In both versions, lamps face toward the ceiling and toward the floor. Consequently, Junius embodies a sense of balance.
